

Used for centuries by diverse cultures to treat insect stings, in medicinal poultices, and more, Activated Charcoal has gained immense popularity in recent years for its detoxifying properties. Widely considered to be the most effective absorbent material in the world today, it acts as a natural way to remove toxins from the skin and hair.*

Activated Charcoal, a powdered form of carbon, is known to be exfoliating, clarifying, anti-inflammatory, and detoxifying without dehydrating the skin. Used in a bath or foot soak, it can draw impurities from the skin, help moisturize skin cells, and stimulate both lymphatic flow and blood circulation.

Directions: For external use only. Dissolve 2 teaspoons in warm water for bath or foot soak. Essential oils may be added if so desired. Store in a cool, dry place.*

Ingredients: Activated charcoal.

Warnings: Keep out of reach of children. May cause eye and respiratory irritation. Avoid breathing dust. Keep away from heat, sparks, and open flames.
